

Hiring a professional business inspirational speaker under $5000 can be challenging.

There are numerous famous lecturers whose fees are more than $10 000 for a single presentation. For an event manager that can be challenging to explain within the fund.

When contracting with David Caruso, a skilled inspirational speaker for more than 10 years, he works to retain his speaking charges reasonable while giving both unlimited takeaways and loads of inspiration from his demonstrations.

Every conference and event manager is looking for the best inspirational speaker within their funds.

As a corporate conference presenter, several of David's motivational presentations are below $5000 and he works hard to help his clients acquire the best profit on investment for their money.

Demystifying Business Speakers Charges & Rates

Mostly a professional speakers rates and charges are a closely guarded secret as they frequently do not share their professional speaking rates openly.

Thus here is a short outline of event speakers costs and what to expect.

A conference presenters fee is generally based on what their time is respected. With that said most event and seminar speaking charges will fall into a certain range as listed below.

QUICK NOTE: If you work with a speaking agency, you would certainly be expecting to pay x2-3 times the lecturer rate you would pay if you spoke to the lecturer directly.

Free Keynote Speaker

You can get a free professional presenters to speak for no fees, especially if they are a new lecturer without much experience.

The only other reason a specialised presenter may speak for free, is if the conference or event is local & convenient for them.

We engaged David as a keynote speaker at a number of recent News Corp seminars.

We were thoroughly impressed with his ability to connect with business owners and share valuable insights into the principles of effective marketing.

David was collaborative, engaging and gained rave reviews from all that attended.

I would high recommend him as a business consultant, coach or keynote speaker.

Keynote Presenter travel costs

Not far removed from the free speaker situation outlined above, a guest speaker can often be hired for just the cost of their travel preparations (hotel + flight). This is a common arrangement if the event presenter is beginner or is able to benefit from the event in some other way in exchange of the event speaking charge.

Often, event or seminar organisers will bargain a fix amount for the hotel/flight, leaving it to the event lecturer to manage the travel themselves. A professional speaker travel charge offer might begin at around $500 and go up to a few thousand dollars for international speaking appointments.

Conference Lecturer $500 – $1750

A business lecturer ask in this price range would usually pertain to small conferences or non-profit events.

It is considered a small speaking fee, but if the seminar speaker really wants to participate in the event, it can be enough to get them to present. If travel costs are included, this presenters charge range can guarantee a modest number of the not yet famous guest speakers in the marketplace.

Professional Lecturer $1500 – $3500

Not unlike the former group, this presenters price range is still modest for an knowledgeable and professional event lecturer. An event presenter you would secure at this range would probably be a skilled presenter with slightly less undertakings or experience.

You may get fortunate in getting a presenter who speaks for a source of livelihood and wants the speaking job.

If you are organising a small conference, meeting or event, this modest rate is acceptable, particularly if you cover travel expenses for the lecturer.

Guest Presenter $3000 – $5000

A lot of very good motivational speakers will take this fee even though it will be below their ask. This is actual money for the greater part of lecturers out there.

Business Lecturer $5000 – $7500

This would be the everyday price range for best event presenters – professional presenter who have given numerous guest speeches beforehand and/or have established career attainments.

Business Presenter $7500 – $10 000

Major conferences and business events frequently pay skilled motivational lecturers within this price range. For this fee they will secure a experienced and skilled keynote lecturer who will deliver an wonderful demonstration usually custom-made to the seminar or event's audience.

Event Lecturer $10 000 +

This is generally the range for big shot lecturers. A big shot presenter is usually a regular name or business professionals that are big appeals for the niche market in question. It makes economic sense to pay this speaking fee especially if you are looking to draw in a paying viewers.
